Romance of the Kusunagi Family
This was the residence of the Kusunagi family, one of the five great families, many of whose members served as regents or vital advisors to emperors until the end of the Edo era. The site of the former residence has a large pond on its western side. It was used as a temporary Imperial residence during the time when the Emperor resided in Kyoto. Poems have been inscribed by various emperors, including Emperor Meiji and Emperor Tenmei. Poems have been inscribed by various emperors, including Emperor Meiji and Emperor Tenmei.

Remains of the Konoe Residence

This was the residence of the Konoe family, one of the five regent houses, many of whose members served as regents or chief advisers to emperors until the end of the Edo era. To the west of the pond of this garden was a large house that was once used as the temporary residence of the emperor when the Imperial Palace had been burnt down. People have long been attracted to the Itozakura cherry trees by the pond. Emperor Koumei admired this tree in his tanka poem.

近卫邸旧址

这一带曾经是近卫家邸宅的所在地。近卫家是五摄家之一。到江户时代末期为止，家族中许多人当上摄政或关白。过去，此庭园的池塘西侧有很大的房院，御所烧毁时曾被作为临时皇居。池畔古来就是垂樱之名所，孝明天皇也曾咏歌赞叹。

고노에(近衛) 저택 터

이 주변이 고노에(近衛) 가문의 저택이 있던 곳입니다. 고노에 가문은 다섯 쟁정 가문(五摂家)의 하나로, 에도(江戸) 시내 말까지 많은 사람이 쟁정(摂政)이나 관백(關白)의 자리에 올랐습니다. 예전에는 이 정원의 연못 서쪽에 커다란 저택이 있어, 고쇼(宮殿)가 불탔을 때에는 임시 황궁으로도 쓰였습니다. 연못가는 옛날부터 수암벚나무의 명소로, 고메이(孝明) 천황도 이 벚꽃의 아름다움을 시로 남기고 있습니다.
